The image shows a web-based currency converter interface. At the top, there is a dark purple header bar with the text "Convertir votre Dollar" in white, followed by a close button icon (a circle with an 'x'). Below the header is a white rectangular form area. Inside this form, the label "Montant :" is positioned above a large, empty text input field with a red border. Below this, the label "Convertir en :" is positioned above a dropdown menu that currently displays "Ariary" and has a downward-pointing chevron icon on its right side. At the bottom of the form is a large, light red button with the text "Convertir" in dark red. Three red arrows are overlaid on the left side of the form, pointing horizontally to the right towards the input field, the dropdown menu, and the "Convertir" button respectively.
